When it comes to the Premier Loos League, it seems Wembley can hold its own, making it onto a list of the top 10 public toilets in the world.

While we may consider a toilet nothing more than a public convenience, design experts have rounded up the 10 best loos from around the globe to form its powder room power list.

The Wembley WC, designed by Gort Scott, made it into sixth place on the list, but the top 10 toilet is not actually in the stadium, it is a simple public toilet on a nearby street.

While some designs opted for wacky colours, others took on a bizarre form.

Perhaps the most unusual entry was from New Zealand, the Kumutoto in Wellington looks like a pair of antennae peering out from the side of a building.

The aim of the Rest Room 'Oscars' list was to celebrate creativity and design in buildings often perceived as dull and dreary, and according to design expert Jamie Mitchell, website Editor of Design Curial, the final list has achieved that aim.

THE TOP 10 BEST-DESIGNED PUBLIC TOILETS

1. Centennial Park Amenities: Sydney, Australia
2. Graviculture M: Miki-city Hyogo prefecture, Japan
3. Kumutoto: Wellington, New Zealand
